

Segmnts Cookie Policy

Introduction

In this policy, references to “we”, “us” or “our” mean Segmnts Ltd (“Segmnts”). References to “you” or “your” mean the person accessing and using the “Website” (as defined below).

References to “the Website” mean www.segmnts.co.uk (including any relevant sub-domains unless this Cookie Policy is expressly excluded from their own terms and conditions).

By accessing the Website, you agree that this Cookie Policy will apply whenever you access the Website on any device.

Segmnts may change this Cookie Policy from time to time. You should check this page periodically to ensure that you are happy with the up to date version.

What are cookies?

Like most other websites and web application, we use cookies to help provide you with the best possible browsing experience, or indeed to make it work at all.

Cookies are small text files that are placed on to your computer or mobile device when you first visit a website or page. They are used for a number of reasons, such as remembering whether you have visited the site before, so that you can remain logged in. They contain information about the use of your computing device but do not include any personal information about you.

How we use cookies

Some cookies provide an essential means to make your web experience possible and safe. These cookies are necessary.

Other cookies are optional and might be used to:

- make the website easier for you to use;
- improve the speed and security of the Website;
- allow you to share our pages on social networks;
- provide us with information about how the Website is used so that we can make improvements to the Website.

We do not use cookies to:

- collect any personal information about you (without your express permission);
- collect any sensitive information;
- pass personal data to any advertising networks;
- pass personal data to third parties.

Giving us permission to use cookies

Most internet browsers are set up to automatically accept cookies.

The Segmnts web application sets a number of cookies. All of these cookies are necessary cookies, in order to manage your browser session and preferences.

You can usually find the tools to manage cookies in the 'preferences' or 'tools' menu of your browser. use these tools if you want to investigate what cookies a web site has set, or if you want to clear all previously stored cookies out.

Types of cookies that we use

We use the following types of cookies on the Website:

- Session cookies – these are only stored temporarily and are deleted from the user's device when the browser is closed.
- Third party cookies – some of our pages feature YouTube videos and feeds from Twitter. These third party features may use numerous cookies (please visit these third party websites for more details on their cookie policies).
